Dear Friend Phelps —

Fowler of the Junior Class (Theo. Lem) called upon me this afternoon at Baldwin's request & with my assistance packed up your books — They were laid down compactly in the box & I presume will reach you in safety — They have been the leaves of of some service to me as book of reference & you will find some of the roll of Edwards works cut — This was done partly by your quondam tutor Stoddard & partly by your old friend H G Porter

P.S. Dr Woods has been received & read — He has produced some excitement here to say the least & Dr. T. feels deeply wounded by that spirit of smothered in duck which is manifested by his opponents Prof Goodrich is to write the article for the Spect —
